Defending free speech is wicked expensive.
Richard Carrier is suing these people for talking about his admitted behavior. Our movement spawned and still supports Carrier.
It's time to support those he is trying to silence.

The SLAPP lawsuit by Richard Carrier against multiple people I care about for reporting on allegations of sexual misconduct against him continues, and therefore so does their accumulation of legal fees. They have a very good First Amendment lawyer, Marc Randazza, who is working at a discount but not for free, and there are other costs that add up along with the legal ones. If you have some spare cash, please check this out and consider donating.
